Professor of Geography

The Department of Geography invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor of Geography with a specialization in Economic Geography.

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at all three levels of the curriculum, supervise graduate students, engage in ongoing research and publication, and contribute to the academic life and reputation of the institution.

Requirements

- PhD in Geography or a related human or social sciences discipline dealing with space-related issues.
- Strong commitment to excellence in teaching and research.
- An interdisciplinary program of research that fits within the department's primary research area in human geography: "Développement, territoire et gouvernance" (development, territory and governance), with particular emphasis on globalization, industrial transformations and the informal economy.
- Proficiency in the French language. The Université de Montréal is a Québec university with an international reputation. French is the language of instruction. To renew its teaching faculty, the University is intensively recruiting the world's best specialists. In accordance with the institution's language policy [http://www.direction.umontreal.ca/secgen/recueil/politique_linguistique.html], Université de Montréal provides support for newly-recruited faculty to attain proficiency in French.

Salary

The Université de Montréal offers a competitive salary and a complete range of benefits.
