

Department of French Studies
Faculty of Arts and Science

Professor of Medieval Studies (Romance Philology)

The Department of French Studies invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Medieval Studies specializing in Romance Philology

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at all three levels of the curriculum, supervise graduate students, engage in ongoing research and publication, and contribute to the academic life and reputation of the institution, particularly to the Centre for Medieval Studies.

Requirements

- PhD in Medieval Studies, Medieval Literature or Romance Philology.
- Teaching experience.
- Relevant publication record.
- Sound knowledge of Latin. Ability to teach a Medieval Latin course.
- Interest in the relationship between language and literature.
- Excellent command of French. The Université de Montréal is a Québec university with an international reputation. French is the language of instruction. To renew its teaching faculty, the University is intensively recruiting the world's best specialists. In accordance with the institution's language policy [\[http://www.direction.umontreal.ca/secgen/recueil/politique_linguistique.html\]](http://www.direction.umontreal.ca/secgen/recueil/politique_linguistique.html), Université de Montréal provides support for newly-recruited faculty to attain proficiency in French.

Salary

The Université de Montréal offers a competitive salary and a complete range of benefits.

Starting Date

From June 1, 2012.

Deadline

The complete application, including a cover letter, curriculum vitæ and a selection of recent publications or research reports, must be received at the address below by November 15, 2011. Applications submitted by email will not be accepted.

Candidates must also arrange to have three letters of recommendation sent directly to the Department Chair at the following address:

Francis Gingras, Interim Chair
Department of French-Language Literatures
Université de Montréal
P. O. Box 6128, Station Centre-Ville
Montreal, Quebec H3C 3J7

For more information about the Department of French-Language Literatures, please consult the Web site at: www.littfra.umontreal.ca.

Confidentiality

The Université de Montréal application process allows all regular professors in the Department to have access to all documents unless the applicant explicitly states in her or his cover letter that access to the application should be limited to the selection committee. This restriction on accessibility will be lifted if the applicant is invited for an interview.

Employment Equity Program

The Université de Montréal upholds the principles of employment equity and welcomes applications from women, ethnic and visible minorities, aboriginals and people with disabilities. Applicants who belong to one of these groups are asked to complete the employment equity identification questionnaire posted at www.fas.umontreal.ca/affaires-professorales/documents/quest-acces-emploi-EN.pdf and attach it to their application.

Immigration Requirements

In compliance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority shall be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.