

Department of Linguistics and Translation
Faculty of Arts and Science

Professor of Specialized Translation (English-French)

The Department of Linguistics and Translation invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor of Specialized Translation (English-French), specializing in scientific and technical translation.

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will be expected to teach at all three levels of the curriculum, supervise graduate students, engage in ongoing research and publication, and contribute to the academic life and reputation of the institution.

Requirements

- PhD in Translation, Language Science or a discipline relevant to teaching specialized translation.
- PhD in hand or defended by the starting date.
- Teaching experience.
- Relevant research and publications.
- Membership in the Ordre des traducteurs, terminologues et interprètes agréés du Québec (OTTIAQ) or a recognized professional organization will be considered an asset.
- Proficiency in the French language. The Université de Montréal is a Québec university with an international reputation. French is the language of instruction. To renew its teaching faculty, the University is intensively recruiting the world's best specialists. In accordance with the institution's language policy [http://www.direction.umontreal.ca/secgen/recueil/politique_linguistique.html], Université de Montréal provides support for newly-recruited faculty to attain proficiency in French.

Salary

The Université de Montréal offers a competitive salary and a complete range of benefits.

Starting Date

From June 1, 2012.

Deadline

The complete application, including a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of recent publications or research reports and a description of teaching and research interests, must be received at the address below by November 15, 2011. Candidates who agree to become involved in the field of specialization must provide details in their description.

Candidates must also arrange to have three letters of recommendation sent directly to the Department Chair at the following address:

Mireille Tremblay, Chair
Department of Linguistics and Translation
Université de Montréal
P. O. Box 6128, Station Centre-Ville
Montreal, Quebec H3C 3J7 CANADA

For more information about the Department of Linguistics and Translation, please consult the Web site at: www.ling.umontreal.ca.

Confidentiality

The Université de Montréal application process allows all regular professors in the Department to have access to all documents unless the applicant explicitly states in her or his cover letter that access to the application should be limited to the selection committee. This restriction on accessibility will be lifted if the applicant is invited for an interview.

Employment Equity Program

The Université de Montréal upholds the principles of employment equity and welcomes applications from women, ethnic and visible minorities, aboriginals and people with disabilities. Applicants who belong to one of these groups are asked to complete the employment equity identification questionnaire posted at www.fas.umontreal.ca/affaires-professorales/documents/quest-acces-emploi-FN.pdf and attach it to their application.

Immigration Requirements

In compliance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority shall be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.