

L'Université
de Montréal et de votre carrière.

Université de Montréal has more than 10,000 employees and is one of Canada's Top 100 Employers.

UdeM has Canada's 2nd largest student body and ranks among the top five Canadian research universities, receiving more than half a billion dollars in research funding every year.

Through the achievements of the members of its community, UdeM participates in building today's and tomorrow's world.

Assistant Professor in Bioanthropology

Department of Anthropology

Faculté des arts et des sciences

Description

The Department of Anthropology invites applications for the full-time, tenure-track position of Assistant Professor in bioanthropology specialised in the study of past or present humans from an evolutionary perspective. We are particularly interested in applications from candidates engaged in genetic research in one or more of the following fields: ontogeny, phylogeny, disease ecology, behavioural ecology or adaptive variability. Other fields of specialisation will also be considered.

Responsibilities

The appointed candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, supervise graduate students, be active in research, publishing, and the diffusion of knowledge, and contribute to the activities of the department and the wider university.

Requirements

- » The candidate must have a doctoral degree in anthropology or a related discipline before the date of appointment (scheduled on June 1st, 2021 or after)
- » A strong research programme and relevant publication profile
- » A demonstrated ability to teach at the university level
- » An adequate knowledge of the French written and spoken language or a strong commitment to mastering the proficiency level required, in accordance with the Université de Montréal's Language Policy. An institutional support program is offered to all professors needing to learn French or wishing to improve their communication skills.

How to submit your application

The application file should contain the following documents:

- » A cover letter describing interests and motivation
- » In accordance with requirements of the Government of Canada, the application must include in the cover letter one of the following statements: "I am a citizen / permanent resident of Canada." or "I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada."
- » A curriculum vitae
- » Recent publications and research papers
- » A teaching philosophy (maximum one page)
- » A presentation of your research program (maximum two pages)
- » Candidates must also include a list of three potential references who could be asked to supply letters of support

Application materials must be sent by email before January 15th 2021 to:

Professor Guy Lanoue, Chair
Department of Anthropology
Email: guy.lanoue@umontreal.ca
Website: anthropo.umontreal.ca

Additional information about the position

Reference number	FAS 11-20 / 5
Application deadline	Until January 15th, 2021, inclusive
Salary	Université de Montréal offers competitive salaries and a full range of benefits
Starting date	June 1st or after

Université de Montréal is strongly committed to fostering diversity and inclusion. Through its Equal Access Employment Program, UdeM invites applications from women, Aboriginal people, visible and ethnic minorities, as well as persons with disabilities. We will –confidentially – adapt our recruitment mechanisms to the specific needs of people with disabilities who request it. We also welcome applications from candidates of all orientations and sexual identities. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadians and permanent residents.

Université de Montréal's application process allows all members of the Professor's Assembly to review the application files submitted. If you wish to keep your application confidential until the shortlist is established, please mention it in your application.

